ADMINISTRATIVE:

Dissemination

Twelve copies of instant report were indicated for the Bureau inasmuch as that number were furnished the Bureau of subject's initial report, referenced above. It was noted in referenced report that the Bureau may desire wider than normal distribution in view of subject's recent employment as President of SDS and in view of his recent past employment with "vital facility". In view of latter reference to employment, possible dissemination includes the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Defense Intelligence Agency, G-2, ONI, OSI and possibly CIA in view of subject's foreign travel.

It is noted that Bendix Systems Division is a "vital facility". It is of procl~~i~~ interest to the U.S. Air Force and U.S. Army. U.S. Air Force is the security responsible agency. This facility is of interest to U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Classification

A classification of "~~Secret~~" is given this report inasmuch as it refers to [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] as reported in initial report referenced above. It is additionally classified "~~Secret~~" inasmuch as it contains information [REDACTED]

(S)

Dissemination of this report has been made locally at Detroit, Michigan, to G-2,, OSI, and U.S. Secret Service, as well as to ONI, Chicago.

Security Index Status

Subject is included in Detroit Security Index, tabbed "Detcom". A review of available information indicates he continues to qualify for inclusion in the Security Index.

DE 100-33032

Regarding subject's Security Index status, it was previously recommended by Detroit that since the subject was placed on the Security Index largely in view of his position as President of SDS, that consideration would be given to recommending interview of the subject, when he completed his term of office, as a means to evaluate whether he should be continued on the SI. In this connection it was noted the subject was not placed on SI because of past subversive activities, was recommended for inclusion in the SI by the Bureau and has by his actions indicated he would not be adverse to an FBI interview.

In this connection it is noted that subject, as noted, initiated contact with FBI during 1965, in an effort to justify position of SDS.

Since he was initially placed on the SI, his foreign travel, identified association with Communists in the U.S. and abroad, and his association with subversive organizations and individuals, as well as his own description of himself as an "anarchist", would continue to qualify him for continued inclusion on the SI. It is believed, however, that subject would be responsive to interview and enable the Bureau to make a better evaluation of the subject through this interview.

In view of the indicated change of subject's employment and residence, a recommendation for an interview with the subject will await determination of his residence status. If he remains at Yellow Springs, Ohio, an interview will be left to the discretion of the Cincinnati Division. If he remains at Ann Arbor, Michigan, Detroit will separately submit recommendation to the Bureau for an interview as discussed above.

Investigative Period

Initial referenced report is a summary report and was the basis for Detroit's recommendation for inclusion of subject in the SI. Second referenced report, dated 6/30/66, was a single item report prepared on the instructions of the Bureau concerning the subject's alleged connection with the Peace Corps.

New York airtel to Atlanta, under date 12/14/65, and captioned, "CP, USA - INTERNAL RELATIONS, IS - C", contains information from CG 5824-S*. INFORMATION WAS NOT TO BE DISSEMINATED EVEN IN PARAPHRASED FORM. This information notes that pursuant to instructions by GUS HALL, a CP, USA functionary, was to go to Washington, D.C., 12/14/65, to contact the Soviets to request that the Soviets arrange that a peace delegation headed by HERBERT APTHEKER, member of

Before going to North Vietnam it was planned that the above-mentioned delegation may go to Prague or Moscow or both cities. (P) U

Information concerning subject's discussion with GUS HALL at Adrian, Michigan, May, 1966, is set forth in the administrative pages of referenced report. On that encounter subject reportedly advised HALL that he had been invited to address a Peace Corps group in Puerto Rico and on that occasion GUS HALL reportedly invited subject to attend 1966 National Conference of the CP as a "guest". #### Reference

Reference in this report is limited to Detroit's two reports in the interest of economy, inasmuch as material contained in instant report was extracted from some four volumes with numerous references.

Contents of Report

As previously noted, subject had no subversive background or history prior to assuming presidency of SDS in 1965, and evaluation of this subject as a consequence must necessarily be made through his writings, speeches and associations. For this reason, detailed information concerning such items is contained in this report in an attempt to establish his philosophy and beliefs. Most of the speeches of the subject were synopsisied, however, his speech on March on Washington, Washington, D.C., is set forth herein verbatim. This speech was included intact inasmuch as it was determined important to the subject and was reprinted by the SDS and other organizations, who apparently regarded it as a policy statement.

[ ] furnished New York with a copy of a description sheet for REP as furnished to her by REP. In this lengthy "prospectus" concerning the project, there is a section captioned "International Intelligence Network", which is set forth as follows:

"REP is beginning to develop a network of people, in the U.S. and abroad, closely tuned to international events, who will serve the movement as quick, incisive sources of intelligence on issues as they develop -- and before. Such a network, including scholars, journalists, leftist youth leaders, government officials, guerilla leaders, etc., can provide us with first-hand reports and analysis of the action of insurgent movements, the workings of the foreign policy apparatus, hints of impending developments. Already we have contacts in Japan, most European countries, Canada, and with Guatemalan guerillas, Vietnamese rebels and neutrals, African nationalists, and others. These contacts are being extended, and to them we must add American scholars with specialized knowledge and contacts. On this basis we can greatly improve our ability to produce documented political analysis, to make independent judgements, to challenge "official truth" and to base political opposition. By maintaining regular correspondence with radical groups and scholarship from abroad we can increase the degree of coordination between their work and that of the American movement.

In connection with the above, it is noted that information has been developed in Detroit's investigation of subject that his primary interest lies in the area of research and writing and that one of his principal interests as President of SDS was to establish a detailed research and analysis unit for the "New Left". As reported in this and other Detroit reports, subject has effected considerable travel abroad and is known to have been in contact with Communists, pacifists or activists in Italy, Japan and Vietnam, 1965 - 1966. (U)

His allies in the IUCDFP organization are known to have claimed "contacts" in France and Algiers. It would appear from the above that subject was likewise highly instrumental in the formation of REP and REP would reflect known interests on the part of the subject. Contrary to the information furnished [redacted] as related above, subject is not presently working on REP at Ann Arbor, but rather, as set forth in this report, is known to be employed at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio. He does serve, as stated in this report, on the "Implementation Committee" of the REP project at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

C. Observations of Associates

An individual who claimed acquaintance with the subject in the period 1959 - 1966, in May of 1966 furnished the following miscellaneous information concerning subject:

He advised that in the earlier part of this period subject impressed him as a normal, well adjusted, moral individual of great competence. He increasingly displayed an almost complete concentration in political matters and at the development of the Cuban crisis and in the period building up to it, subject increasingly stated his admiration for FIDEL CASTRO. With the Gulf of Tonkin incident in 1964, subject became personally deeply concerned in that incident and stated his criticism of United States presence and involvement in that area of the world. He stated his admiration for the Chinese in terms that caused this source to regard subject as "pro Communist China", as well as "pro Cuba".

By 1964, according to this source, there was a marked change in the subject whom source at that time regarded as abnormal, immoral and "increasingly radical" in his political philosophy. He was at this time known to the source to be dating various women, other than his wife, and source stated he knew him [redacted]

[redacted] Michigan. Additionally he changed completely in his political philosophy from that of a "respectable liberal" to a person with "revolutionary beliefs and statements". In his discussions he showed himself to be completely "anti-Capitalist" and almost abnormally "anti-military". He similarly developed an "anti-religious" attitude and almost daily spoke critically of the "American Capitalist System" the military industrial complex, and similarly spoke in a derogatory fashion toward all organized religion.

Source described subject as "completely an internationalist" who constantly stated high concern for world humanity. Subject told source in the fall of 1964, that he had voted as "far left" as he was permitted to in the 1964 national election.

Source advised that the subject in his employment at Bendix Systems Division, where he was employed prior to assuming presidency of SDS, he was most interested in arms control and disarmament matters and showed great interest in becoming employed in that area of Bendix Research, unsuccessfully (U)

With reference to subject's past employment with Bendix Systems Division, which source described as security sensitive employment, source advised that subject had access to very sensitive internal security information and showed great interest in arms control matters, particularly. He advised subject in this employment assigned to himself the most sensitive assignments being handled by his technical editing staff at Bendix. Source advised that subject displayed a personal philosophy of having a duty to humanity greater than his loyalty to America. Source stated subject might use any information in his possession in any manner subject felt might be helpful to aid in achieving world peace, irrespective of the best interests of the United States. With reference to this past employment, source added that subject was not a technically trained person and he did not believe that subject gained in this Bendix employment information of technical value involving national defense. He stated, however, subject, through this employment gained significant national defense information which, if divulged, would be of value to potential enemies of the United States. Source stated he does not regard subject to be a loyal United States citizen and believes him to hold little or no allegiance to the United States, subject having frequently described himself as a "citizen of the world". CPO-196

Source described subject as a brilliant writer, an "original thinker" and one who was highly regarded in his employment as "Technical Editor" at Bendix Systems Division, Ann Arbor, Michigan. He described him politically as a "liberal", who developed into the "radical - left" during the fall of 1964, coinciding with the national election of 1964. Source advised that subject's turning point from "liberal" to "radical - left" appeared to be on the question of United States intervention in Vietnam. At that time subject became deeply concerned in political activity and considered political alternatives including "Freedom Now Party" and various socialist political parties. Subject told him at the time that he had become completely disgusted with traditional political parties in the United States and decided to vote for DU BARRY of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) ticket in November, 1964 election. (U)

The SWP has been designated by the United States Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Source also said subject, at this time, studied all material available on the Vietnam question and became somewhat of a self-made authority on the question. At this same time subject, whose prior interest had been almost completely in the area of writing and drama, experienced some personal reverses in his artistic line and stated his disgust at further employment in the "war industrial complex" work in which Bendix was then engaged. He made known his desire to do positive work in the "arms control and disarmament area", which, at that time, was a research project undertaken by the Bendix Systems Division at Ann Arbor, Michigan. Subject, although not employed with the arms control and disarmament (U)

[REDACTED] subject decided to resign his Bendix employment to work full time in the area of "peace" with the SDS.

On assuming the SDS Presidency in the summer of 1965, subject decided against moving his family to Chicago, Illinois, where the SDS headquarters are located, stating that he had taken the SDS position on condition that he would primarily engage in research to support SDS programs and decided Ann Arbor area provided him with the best environment for this work. In this connection, he noted his access to the faculty at U of M, to the excellent library facilities and to the general environment which he considered important to his work. Subject complained that despite the fact he had undertaken the SDS position for the reasons mentioned above, he said he had found little time to do any good research and little writing and found himself in an almost constant travel status making appearances throughout the country for SDS. (U)

Source described subject as a qualified writer and musician. He said subject is an acknowledged authority in matters concerning the theatre. He described subject as an author and playwright having had some three plays produced, all of which were given critical approval. His most recent play entitled "The Hero" almost made Broadway production in the recent past. It was the problem involving this play which anticipated Broadway production in 1965, whose failure got subject completely involved in the SDS program regarding Vietnam. (U)

Source advised that subject is very dramatic in his activities and brings a dramatic flair to almost everything he undertakes. He stated he knew subject as an acknowledged atheist and socialist in his general philosophy. Source stated, however, that he was certain the subject had no inclination toward violence nor the advocacy of violence. He described subject as primarily a humanitarian who frequently in discussion raises the principles of the Nurenberg War Crimes Trials, i.e. the idea that a citizen has an obligation to all of mankind and that such obligation is superior to a citizen's obligation to his own nation, when he finds its laws to be immoral. (U)

Subject has advised source that he has close associations among the faculty at the U of M, Ann Arbor, (U)

Subject has told source that he considered himself somewhat of a "figurehead" President of SDS. In this connection he explained that he regarded himself as a thinker, writer, and speaker for the SDS organization and not as one who set policy or ran the affairs of SDS. In this connection he advised source that he aligns himself with U of M faculty associates in counseling the SDS organization rather than "running it". (U)

Regarding subject's intensive work and personal sacrifice in assuming SDS Presidency, source advised that subject has completely devoted himself for approximately the past year to work in a positive way to counter United States policy in regards to Indo-China. Subject has told source he believes that not just the United States, but "humanity" is on the brink of disaster and he fears total destruction in a nuclear encounter. He has told source it is his intention presently to work with all his energies to forestall a nuclear war, the possibility of which he holds to be very much of a reality. He has told source that he believes that the total present day effort of United States foreign policy is aimed at a world disaster. (U)

Source advised that from his close acquaintance with the subject he believes that while the subject is dedicated to changing conditions in the United States, he is not advocating or interested in the overthrow of the United States Government or United States system. He has stated his conviction that in the work of the "New Left", appropriate changes in the United States system, domestically and internationally, may result. (U)

Source noted that at the time subject assumed Presidency of the SDS there were press accounts stating that the SDS organization contemplated deliberate violations of United States Espionage Laws. With regard to this matter, source advised subject told him that the SDS organization, such, had contemplated or considered interests of propaganda of military personnel, which activity he said was known to SDS as a possible violation of United States Espionage Laws. In this connection source recalls subject said he would personally not conduct any such illegal activity. Regarding sources of income, subject advised source that he received a meager and inadequate salary as President of SDS and that he was unable to do extensive traveling for SDS since his travel expenses were almost invariably covered by SDS. He stated that he generally does not receive money but rather that speaking engagements and tickets are generally sent to him by the Chicago Office of the SDS for travel to be made by him.

Additionally he said that regarding his foreign travel, such travel was made by him under funds furnished by a professors Vietnam protest group, not otherwise described.

DE T-7
March 9, 1966

Subject was believed to have left somewhat of a small group of sympathizers to his views with some former fellow employees at Bendix Systems Division, Ann Arbor, Michigan. In this connection, subject in January, 1965, was reportedly in contact with a Bendix former associate, to determine how many United States bases are maintained overseas and inquired as to their locations. This information is not classified information, however, was described as information readily available to Bendix because of its work in the arms control and disarmament and related areas.

DE T-8

A source, who has been acquainted with the subject professionally in recent years, furnished the following miscellaneous information concerning subject in October, 1965:

~~SECRET~~

DE 100-33032

A play written by the subject and entitled "The Hero" was seriously considered for Broadway production in 1963 - 1964, however, due to technical difficulties of casting and otherwise, the production of this play has been indefinitely delayed. The play was produced on an amateur basis at the U of M during 1965. This play was described as a tremendous play which should establish subject as a significant American playwright, comparable to ARTHUR MILLER. It is described as a modern epic of classic drama, similar to Greek drama and concerns the struggle of man with his guilt and redemption. It utilized CHRIST as a symbol of a redeemed man and one of the secondary characterizations is that of an "FBI Agent for GOD". It is not a political play or an anti-war play and it has no subversive ramifications.

Another play of the subject's, "The Peacemakers", is described as one having anti-war overtones and is based on the "HATFIELD - MC COY feud". Other plays of the subject, "The Wind is No Wilder" and "Season of the Beast" have been produced in Hollywood and Texas, respectively, in recent years.

Source advised that subject and his wife are not separated but that subject plays around with any girl available to him [REDACTED]

Source stated that subject in his employment could properly be referred to as President of SDS and Playwright in that subject makes no secret of his connection and complete sympathy with SDS. He has never expressed any sympathy for the Communist Party, United States of America, or any other group recognized as subversive in the United States. He is opposed to continuation of the war in Vietnam and United States intervention in the Dominican Republic. He admires any country which is socialist oriented and this is the basis of subject's admiration for FIDEL CASTRO. He keeps his political beliefs and playwriting separated in his thinking and is professionally regarded as a worthy playwright, particularly because he raises his plays far above the level of mere protest or anti-war plays.

A source furnished the following miscellaneous information concerning the subject in December, 1965:

Subject considers himself to be "figurehead" National President of the SDS. He stated that the National SDS Leadership agrees that he should not be travelling all over the country and at times to various parts of the world; however, almost daily he is required to make a trip somewhere to make an appearance for SDS. As an SDS national officer, he receives something on the order of $75.00 a week for his services and expenses. The amount of income is insufficient to sustain his family and he has been required to spend all of his personal savings during this time. The interior of subject's home at Ann Arbor, Michigan, is unusual in that the walls of the home are plastered throughout with posters depicting opposition to the war in Vietnam.

Regarding the financial condition of SDS and subject's income as President for the organization, subject has stated that there are "angels" who furnish amounts of money to keep the organization going and that he has attempted to secure financial support from "an old school leftist", who has furnished financial support to the SDS organization in the past.

Subject also has stated that when his term as National Chairman of SDS expires in 1966, he will continue with the organization. In this connection he stated there are a number of people who are interested in keeping him in the public eye and would therefore keep him employed. He has stated the National Chairmanship of the SDS, as such, does not mean much to him, that his real interests lie in writing and speaking.

Subject's home at Ann Arbor, Michigan, was described as the center of education and research phases of SDS and he appears obviously more wrapped up in his career than his family (U)

[REDACTED] Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), at the SDS headquarters, 702 West 27th Street, Los Angeles, in connection with a possible violation of the Selective Service Act of 1948, an individual who identified himself as CARL OGLESBY, National President of SDS, indicated a desire to converse with the interviewing Agents.

OGLESBY stated he had just heard a news release that the SDS in a national membership referendum had voted to take a neutral stand on the draft question. He stated that the votes were being counted when he left Chicago and that he was surprised at the result because he felt sure the membership would support the past SDS campaign against the draft and the war in Vietnam.

OGLESBY stated he had been in Los Angeles for the past few days and would be returning to the East that day. He commented that he did not know what the policy of the SDS would be now or what projects they would concentrate on. He did state that he felt that the SDS had been given a bad image in the eyes of the public in that a lot of people thought of the SDS as a bunch of draft card burners and draft dodgers. OGLESBY asserted that the SDS had never urged draft evasion or draft card burning, although it was possible individual members had burned their cards. He advised that SDS had sympathy with those who felt it necessary to burn their cards to express their viewpoints.

OGLESBY stated that the SDS has been interested in presenting a true picture of the war in Vietnam and in urging an alternative to force. He further stated that the SDS has concentrated on providing counseling on the draft for those who oppose the draft and the war in Vietnam. He alleged that the SDS has been interested only in providing alternatives to the draft and not draft evasion. He continued that the SDS would like to see the Government allow young men to serve their country in other capacities such as the Peace Corps, VISTA, and community projects. (U)

OGLESBY alleged that he had spent several weeks in Vietnam earlier this year and had talked to members of the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency there. OGLESBY was of the opinion that the majority of the people in Vietnam support the Viet Cong and that the Viet Cong is not the terrorist organization it is portrayed to be, but on the contrary is trying to gain the support of the people by giving them land, food and generally raising their standard of living. He claimed that the United States and the South Vietnamese are preventing the people from holding elections and choosing their own government. He further claimed that the United States and South Vietnamese troops are making enemies of the people by destroying their villages and killing the inhabitants. (U)

OGLESBY commented that although he does not favor communism in the United States, that he does not feel it is necessarily wrong for Vietnam if it would be best for the people. He was of the opinion that the Vietnamese had the right to choose communism if they so desired and that it probably would be better for them than the current or more recent regimes in South Vietnam. (U)

He stated he felt that it would be to the benefit of both the United States and Vietnam if the United States would withdraw its troops from Vietnam. He agreed that it was probable that the communists would take over all of Vietnam, but he believed that the United States by expert diplomacy could persuade the Vietnam government to be neutralist communist as is Yugoslavia. In this way, the war would be ended, the Vietnamese people would have peace and the United States would not have suffered any political setback. (U)

OGLESBY indicated that he felt the word "communist" had become synonymous with evil in the minds of Americans and that this image was not necessarily true. He referred to the apparent change of politics on the part of the Soviet Union in that they are not engaged in the cold war to the extent they were in recent years. He alleged that communist control (U) of a country did not necessarily indicate political ties with the Soviet Union and gave as example Yugoslavia and Red China. He also claimed that North Vietnam did not like Red China and was not tied to them politically. He re-emphasized that he did not believe communist control over Vietnam would necessarily be bad and that the United States must learn to negotiate with communism. He reiterated that it was not the question of capitalism versus communism but whether a political system by any name would be good for the people of a given country. (U)

OGLESBY commented that his father did not agree with his views and was very upset with him because of his attitude towards communism. (U)

III. SDS ACTIVITIES

A. SDS Conference Held at University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois, December 27, 1965 - January 2, 1966

CARL OGLESBY, as President of SDS, attended the SDS conference held at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois, December, 1965 to January, 1966. He was described as aloof and maintaining himself from the politics and problems of the conference. He appeared above political issues and although President, never chaired even one of the many debates held during the conference. He attended various sessions of the conference, however, simply as a spectator. On one evening session he made an announcement that a representative of the American Society of Friends, Chicago, had contacted him concerning a private letter being written to HO CHI MEN of North Vietnam. In connection with this letter, he stated he was solicited as one whose signature was desired to this letter which was described as urging HO CHI MEN to be receptive to sincere peace offensives of the United States Government, if the peace offensives were genuinely sincere.

In discussing this matter, OGLESBY appeared to wish to express or demonstrate the day to day decision making problems confronting him in his position.

"The debate got hotter and hotter but still seemed well under control. Finally moderator SHUNSAKE TSURUMI, in charge of the first part of the program, called on a 'bearded American' from the audience. His name was CARL OGLESBY, a leader for SDS. (U)

"Upon hearing that this meeting would be held today", the press reported OGLESBY as saying, "I flew to Japan from the opposite side of the earth. The atmosphere is so good that I feel I am one of your friends. I think the way the United States has chosen is very difficult no matter what Ambassador REISCHAUER thinks. I can never forgive what the United States is doing in Vietnam now". He was further quoted by the Tokyo papers as saying, "I went to Vietnam and witnessed an American burning a child to death with his cigarette lighter. I saw napalm too. I was ashamed of myself. (U)

"As he went on the liberal democrats became angrier and angrier. They claimed the moderator 'had schemed' it, that the operation was unfair and that it should be stopped immediately'. (U)

"Trembling in excitement the chief producer", according to the Sunday Mainichi, "ordered his man to convey a message to the moderator, 'if this confusion continues we will cut the broadcast'. The moderator intervened, stopped the bearded American and apologized".

The article concludes that the management of the Japanese television channel cancelled the program and went off the air. (U)

3. Travel To Vietnam

CARL OGLESBY freely discussed his summer, 1965 travel to South Vietnam and states his belief that the United States has been guilty of committing atrocities in South Vietnam. He stated he might enjoy living in an Asian country, perhaps Vietnam, and that he favorably regards the people of Vietnam, both North and South Vietnamese. Discussing United States intervention in Vietnam he has stated his belief that United States financial interests want to keep the Vietnamese war going because of monetary considerations. In his discussions of Vietnam he frequently quotes MAO TSE TUNG, HO CHI MINH, as well as MARX and LENIN. He appears in his discussions to have accepted certain Marxist and Communist principles and appears very pro-Asian and sincere in his professed interest in possibly living there at some future time. (U)

In December, 1965, there was considered several "peace missions" to North Vietnam for contact with the North Vietnamese government on the part of several United States private delegations, one of which reportedly involved SANE. STAUGHTON LYND further advised during this interview that while at Harvard University, he had also been a member of the John Reed Club for approximately two years during 1947 and 1948. During this program, OGLESBY presented the view of his organization which holds that the United States is the aggressor in Vietnam and that we should promptly discontinue our military activity in that country. He said that publicly the position of the United States has been that we are only bombing strategic targets in Vietnam, however, he alleged that it is well known that we have gone out of our way to bomb villages and other targets which have no military significance. He cited, as an example, the alleged wiping out of a leper colony by American planes recently. He went into a long harangue about the use of napalm and other types of bombs and said, "We feel we can raise a good question as to whether the United States is guilty of war crimes."

The most anti-American speech was delivered by CARL OGLESBY, President of SDS. He said he was anti-American. He said he firmly believed that the only solution to the end of war was a drastic change in the total political and social order of the United States. OGLESBY read off a list of purported facts which he said showed every State Department official who negotiated a revolution in Iran, Central America, Latin America, did so with the only intent of furthering the United States neo-colonial capitalistic interests in those areas and allaying the peoples revolution against colonialism which certainly would have come about had not the United States intervened militarily.

He indicated the United States action in the overthrow of MOSSAHASSADEK (engineered by the Central Intelligence Agency, he said) was for the sole purpose of giving American oil firms a hold on the wealth of that country. The same he said was true of the sugar cane interest in Central America and the molasses business of the same area. All the men who represented the United States State Department have since become members of the boards of these large corporations. OGLESBY said everyone should support the people's revolution in South Vietnam and insist that the United States withdraw its troops and permit the people to have whatever form of government they desired.

"LIBERALISM AND THE CORPORATE STATE"

"By CARL OGLESBY

"Seven months ago at the April March on Washington, Paul Potter, then President of Students for a Democratic Society, stood in approximately this spot and said that we must name the system that creates and sustains the war in Vietnam - name it, describe it, analyze it, understand it, and change it.

"Today I will try to name it - to suggest an analysis which, to be quite frank, may disturb some of you - and to suggest what changing it may require of us.

"We are here again to protest against a growing war. Since it is a very bad war, we acquire the habit of thinking that it must be caused by very bad men. But we only conceal reality, I think, to denounce on such grounds the menacing coalition of industrial and military power, or the brutality of the blitzkrieg we are waging against Vietnam, or the ominous signs around us that heresy may soon no longer be permitted. We must simply observe, and quite plainly say, that this coalition, this blitzkrieg, and this demand for acquiescence are creatures, all of them, of a government that since 1932 has considered itself to be fundamentally liberal.

This is the complete text of a talk delivered on November 27, 1965.

DE 100-33032

"The original commitment in Vietnam was made by President Truman, a mainstream liberal. It was seconded by President Eisenhower, a moderate liberal. It was intensified by the late President Kennedy, a flaming liberal. Think of the men who now engineer that war - those who study the maps, give the commands, push the buttons, and tally the dead: Bundy, McNamara, Rush, Lodge, Goldberg, the President himself.

"They are not moral monsters.

"They are all honorable men.

"They are all liberals.

"But so, I'm sure, are many of us who are here today in protest. To understand the war, then, it seems necessary to take a closer look at this American liberalism. Maybe we are in for some surprises. Maybe we have here two quite different liberalisms: one authentically humanist, the other not so human at all.

"Not long ago, I considered myself a liberal. And if someone had asked me what I meant by that, I'd perhaps have quoted Thomas Jefferson or Thomas Paine, who first made plain our nation's unprovisional commitment to human rights. But what do you think would happen if these two heroes could sit down now for a chat with President Johnson and McGeorge Bundy?

"They would surely talk of the Vietnam war. Our dead revolutionaries would soon wonder why their country was fighting against what appeared to be a revolution. The living liberals would hotly deny that it is one: there are troops coming in from outside, the rebels get arms from other countries, most of the people are not on their side, and they practice terror against their own. Therefore, not a revolution.

"What would our dead revolutionaries answer? They might say: 'What fools and bandits, sirs, you make then of us. Outside help? Do you remember Lafayette? Or the 3,000 British freighters the French navy sunk for our side? Or the arms and men we got from France and Spain? And what's this about terror? Did you never hear what we did to our own loyalists? Or about the thousands of rich American Tories who fled for their lives to Canada? And as for popular support, do you not know that we had less than one third of our people with us? That, in fact, the colony of New York recruited more troops for the British than for the revolution? Should we give it all back?'

"Revolutions do not take place in velvet boxes. They never have. It is only the poets who make them lovely. What the National Liberation Front is fighting in Vietnam is a complex and vicious war. This war is also a revolution, as honest a revolution as you can find anywhere in history. And this is a fact which all our intricate official denials will never change.

"But it doesn't make any difference to our leaders anyway. Their aim in Vietnam is really much simpler than this implies. It is to safeguard what they take to be American interests around the world against revolution or revolutionary change, which they always call Communism - as if that were that. In the case of Vietnam, this interest is, first, the principle that revolution shall not be tolerated anywhere, and second, that South Vietnam shall never sell its rice to China - or even to North Vietnam.

"There is simply no such thing now, for us, as a just revolution - never mind that for two thirds of the world's people the "twentieth century might as well be the Stone Age; never mind the terrible poverty and hopelessness that are the basic facts of life for most modern men; and never mind that for these millions there is now an increasingly perceptible relationship between their sorrow and out contentment. (u)

"Can we understand why the Negroes of Watts rebelled? Then why do we need a devil theory to explain the rebellion of the South Vietnamese? Can we understand the oppression in Mississippi, or the anguish that our Northern ghettos make epidemic? Then why can't we see that our proper human struggle is not with Communism or revolutionaries, but with the social desperation that drives good men to violence, both here and abroad? (u)

"To be sure, we have been most generous with our aid, and in Western Europe, a mature industrial society, that aid worked. But there are always political and financial strings. And we have never shown ourselves capable of allowing others to make those traumatic institutional changes that are often the prerequisites of progress in colonial societies. For all our official feeling for the millions who are enslaved to what we so self-righteously call the yoke of Communist tyranny, we make no real effort at all to crack through the much more vicious right wing tyrannies that our businessmen traffic with and our nation profits from every day. And for all our cries about the international red conspiracy to take over the world, we take only pride in our 6,000 military bases on foreign soil. (u)

"We gave Rhodesia a grave look just now - but we keep on buying her chromium, which is cheap because black slave labor mines it. (u)

"We deplore the racism of Verwoerd's fascist South Africa - but our banks make big loans to that country and our private technology makes it a nuclear power. (5)

"We are saddened and puzzled by random back-page stories of revolt in this or that Latin American state - but are convinced by a few pretty photos in the Sunday supplement that things are getting better, that the world is coming our way, that danger from disorder can be orderly, that our benevolence will pacify the distressed, that our might will intimidate the angry. (10)

"Optimists, may I suggest that these are quite unlikely fantasies? They are fantasies because we have lost that mysterious social desire for human equity that from time to time has given us genuine moral drive. We have become a nation of young, bright-eyed, hard-hearted, slim-waisted, bullet-headed make-out artists. A nation - may I say it? - of beardless liberals. (3)

"You say I am being hard? Only think.

"This country, with its thirty-some years of liberalism, can send 200,000 young men to Vietnam to kill and die in the most dubious of wars, but it cannot get 100 voter registers to go into Mississippi. (6)

"The financial burden of the war obliges us to cut millions from an already pathetic War on Poverty budget. But in almost the same breath, Congress appropriates $140 million for the Lockheed and Boeing companies to compete with each other on the supersonic transport project - that Disneyland creation that will cost us all about $2 billion before it's done. "What do you make of it?

"Many of us have been earnestly resisting for some years now the idea of putting atomic weapons into West German hands, an action that would perpetuate the division of Europe and thus the Cold War. Now just this week we find out that, with the meagerest of security systems, West Germany has had nuclear weapons in her hands for the past six years.

"What do you make of it?

"Some will make of it that I overdraw the matter. Many will ask: What about the other side? To be sure, there is the bitter ugliness of Czechoslovakia, Poland, those infamous Russian tanks in the streets of Budapest. But my anger only rises to hear some say that sorrow cancels sorrow, or that this one's shame deposits in that one's account the right to shamefulness.

"And others will make of it that I sound mighty anti-American. To these, I say: Don't blame me for that! Blame those who mouthed my liberal values and broke my American heart.

"Just who might they be, by the way? Let's take a brief factual inventory of the latter-day Cold War.

"In 1953 our Central Intelligence Agency managed to overthrow Mossadegh in Iran, the complaint being his neutralism in the Cold War and his plans to nationalize the country's oil resources to improve his people's lives. Most evil aims, most evil man. In his place we put in General Zahedi, a World War II Nazi collaborator. New arrangements on Iran's oil gave 25 year leases on 40 percent of it to

"In 1954, the democratically elected Arbenz of Guatemala wanted to nationalize a portion of United Fruit Company's plantations in his country, land he needed badly for a modest program of agrarian reform. His government was overthrown in a CIA supported right-wing coup. The following year, General Walter Bedell Smith, director of the CIA when the Guatemala venture was being planned, joined the board of directors of the United Fruit Company.

"Comes 1960 and Castro cries we are about to invade Cuba. The administration sneers 'poppycock' and we Americans believe it. Comes 1961 and the invasion. Comes with it the awful realization that the United States government had lied.

"Comes 1962 and the missile crisis, and our administration stands prepared to fight global atomic war on the curious principle that another state does not have the right to its own foreign policy.

"Comes 1963 and British Guiana, where Cheddi Jagan wants independence from England and a labor law modeled on the Wagner Act. And Jay Lovestone, the AFL-CIO foreign policy chief, acting, as always, quite independently of labor's rank and file, arranges with our government to finance an eleven-week dock strike that brings Jagan down, ensuring that the state will remain British Guiana, and that any workingman who wants a wage better than 50¢ a day is a dupe of Communism.

"Comes 1965. The Dominican Republic. Rebellion in the streets. We scurry to the spot with 20,000 neutral marines and our neutral peacemakers - like Elsworth Bunker, Jr., Ambassador to the Organization of American States. Most of us know that our neutral marines fought openly on the side of the junta, a fact that the administration still denies. But how many also know that what was at stake was our new Caribbean sugar bowl? That this same neutral peacemaking Bunker is a board member and stock owner of the National Sugar Refining Company, a firm his father founded in the good old days, and one which has a major interest in maintaining the status quo in the Dominican Republic? Or that the President's close personal friend and advisor, our new Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas, has sat for the past 19 years on the board of the Sucrest Company, which imports black-strap molasses from the Dominican Republic? Or that the rhetorician of corporate liberalism and the late President Kennedy's close friend, Adolf Berle, was chairman of that same board? Or that our roving ambassador Averill Harriman's brother Roland is on the board of National Sugar? Or that our former ambassador to the Dominican Republic, Joseph Farland, is a board member of the South Puerto Rico Sugar Co., which owns 275,000 acres of rich land in the Dominican Republic and is the largest employer on the island - at about one dollar a day?

"We do not say these men are evil. We say, rather, that good men can be divided from their compassion by the institutional system that inherits us all. Generation in and out, we are put to use. People become instruments. Generals do not hear the screams of the bombed; sugar executives do not see the misery of the cane cutters: for to do so is to be that much less the general, that much less the executive.

"The foregoing facts of recent history describe one main aspect of the estate of Western liberalism. Where is our American humanism here? What went wrong?

"Let's stare our situation coldly in the face. All of us are born to the colossus of history, our American corporate system - in many ways, an awesome organism. There is one fact that describes it: with about five percent of the world's people, we consume about half of the world's goods. We take a richness that is in good part not our own, and we put it in our pockets, our garages, our split-levels, our bellies, and our futures.

"On the face of it, it is a crime that so few should have so much at the expense of so many. Where is the moral imagination so abused as to call this just? Perhaps many of us feel a bit uneasy in our sleep. We are not, after all, a cruel people. And perhaps we don't really need this super-dominance that deforms others. But what can we do? The investments are made. The financial ties are established. The plants abroad are built. Our system exists. One is swept up into it. How intolerable - to be born moral, but addicted to a stolen and maybe surplus luxury. Our goodness threatens to become counterfeit before our eyes - unless we change. But change threatens us with uncertainty - at least.

~~SECRET~~

DE 100-33032

"Our problem, then, is to justify this system and give its theft another name - to make kind and moral what is neither, to perform some alchemy with language that will make this injustice seem to be a most magnanimous gift.

"A hard problem. But the Western democracies, in the hey-day of their colonial expansionism, produced a hero worthy of the task.

"Its name was free enterprise, and its partner was an illiberal liberalism that said to the poor and the dispossessed: What we acquire of your resources we repay in civilization. The white man's burden. But this was too poetic. So a much more hard-headed theory was produced. This theory said that colonial status is in fact a boon to the colonized. We give them technology and bring them into modern times.

"But this deceived no one but ourselves. We were delighted with this new theory. The poor saw in it merely an admission that their claims were irrefutable. They stood up to us, without gratitude. We were shocked - but also confused, for the poor seemed again to be right. How long is it going to be the case, we wondered, that the poor will be right and the rich will be wrong?

"Liberalism faced a crisis. In the face of the collapse of the European empires, how could it continue to hold together our twin need for richness and righteousness? How can we continue to sack the ports of Asia and still dream of Jesus?

"The challenge was met with a most ingenious solution: the ideology of anti-Communism. This was the bind: we cannot call revolution bad, because we started that way ourselves, and because it is all too easy to see why the dispossessed should rebel.

"So we will call revolution Communism. And we will reserve for ourselves the right to say what Communism means. We take note of revolution's enormities, wrenching them where necessary from their historical context and often exaggerating them, and say: Behold, Communism is a bloodbath. We take note of those reactionaries who stole the revolution, and say: Behold, Communism is a betrayal of the people. We take note of the revolution's need to consolidate itself, and say: Behold, Communism is a tyranny.

"It has been all these things, and it will be these things again, and we will never be at a loss for those tales of atrocity that comfort us so in our self-righteousness. Nuns will be raped and bureaucrats will be disembowled. Indeed, revolution is a fury. For it is a letting loose of outrages pent up sometimes over centuries. But the more brutal and longer-lasting the suppression of this energy, all the more ferocious will be its explosive release.

"Far from helping Americans deal with this truth, the anti-Communist ideology merely tries to disguise it so that things may stay the way they are. Thus, it depicts our presence in other lands not as a coercion, but a protection. It allows us even to say that the napalm in Vietnam is only another aspect of our humanitarian love - like those exorcisms in the Middle Ages that so often killed the patient. So we say to the Vietnamese peasant, the Cuban intellectual, the Peruvian worker: 'You are better dead than red. If it hurts or if you don't understand why - sorry about that'.

"This is the action of corporate liberalism. It performs for the corporate state a function quite like what the Church

"performed for the feudal state. It seeks to justify its burdens and protect it from change. As the Church exaggerated this office in the Inquisition, so with liberalism in the McCarthy time - which, if it was a reactionary phenomenon, was still made possible by our anti-Communist corporate liberalism.

"Let me then speak directly to humanist liberals. If my facts are wrong, I will soon be corrected. But if they are right, then you may face a crisis of conscience. Corporatism or humanism; which? For it has come to that. Will you let your dreams be used? Will you be grudging apologists for the corporate state? Or will you help try to change it - not in the name of this or that blueprint or ism, but in the name of simple human decency and democracy and the vision that wise and brave men saw in the time of our own Revolution?

"And if your commitment to human value is unconditional, then disabuse yourselves of the notion that statements will bring change, if only the right statements can be written, or that interviews with the mighty will bring change if only the mighty can be reached, or that marches will bring change if only we can make them massive enough, or that policy proposals will bring change if only we can make them responsible enough.

"We are dealing now with a colossus that does not want to be changed. It will not change itself. It will not cooperate with those who want to change it. Those allies of ours in the government - are they really our allies? If they are, then they don't need advice, they need constituencies; they don't need study groups, they need a movement. And if they are not, then all the more reason for building that movement with a most relentless conviction.

We radicals know the same history that you liberals know, and we can understand your occasional cynicism, exasperation, and even distrust. But we ask you to put these aside and help us risk a leap. The article identifies this as a reprint of a speech delivered by the subject November 27, 1965, on the "March on Washington to End The War in Vietnam". "Liberation" is identified in this publication as a "monthly of revolutionary non-violence" published at 5 Beakem Street, New York, New York.

A review of the above noted speech of subject's was contained in the March, 1966, issue of "Monthly Review" in an article entitled "Oglesby's Speech", by STEVE NEWMAN. NEWMAN is identified therein as a member of the Progressive Labor Party. In the review he states his intention to clarify and sharpen some of the points in the "basically good speech" CARL OGLESBY made at Washington, D.C.

A meeting sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association of Trinity College and a group of students hoping to form a chapter of SDS at that college was held at the Goodwin Theatre, Trinity College, February 11, 1966. The meeting was addressed by subject in a talk entitled "Revolution and Containment". His talk concerned an explanation of the origin of the Cold War after World War II and ended with an attack on United States policy in Vietnam.

The talk was well researched, capably delivered and well received by an audience of some 400. The speaker appeared to be an intelligent idealist who, although critical of United States policy in Vietnam, condemned Russian intervention in Hungary as well. He stated the United States and Russia are cooperating against China and that while United States policy calls for a "free world" it approves anti-Communist dictators in the so-called "free world".

An article published at New Haven, Connecticut February, 1966, reports that subject spoke on the topic "World Revolution and American Containment", at a meeting sponsored by Yale - New Haven Chapter, SDS, held February 11, 1966, at Yale University Law School auditorium.

In this talk subject stated the United States has failed in Vietnam because of a United States "Asian policy which seeks to stabilize the world in an era of great revolution". He described this policy as an Asian extension of United States policies of "containment and co-existence" with the Russians, which, he said, has beguiled the United States because of the success of this policy in post-war Europe. He was quoted as stating, "Our leaders realize the Vietnam revolution is an internal revolution. Hanoi is recognized as the traditional enemy of China but still our argument is to react according to our European policy". He stressed, according to the article, that the condition of Asia today cannot be compared to Europe in 1946. He said "Europe was not revolutionary, but Asia is. In Europe we don't find racism and exploitation. Unlike Europe no international monolithic communist party exists in Asia."

He concluded the United States must withdraw immediately from Vietnam, make reparations to Laos and Cambodia, promise never again to intervene in a revolutionary struggle and must revise its Chinese policy.

VIII. PRESS COMMENT OR INTERVIEW

The "New Left Notes" is published by the SDS at Chicago, Illinois. In an issue dated May 6, 1966, appears a lengthy article captioned "Comments on Oglesby" wherein the writer of the article criticizes a report of subject's from Italy which refers to political conditions in Italy. In this lengthy article appears the statement "The fact is that OGLESBY is so anxious to see the left turn that he misunderstands the present basis of the Italian Communist Party's organization." (U)

An article appeared in the "Detroit Free Press" dated November 24, 1965, captioned "Objectors Organize to Battle the Draft". The article quotes subject relative to the SDS "Anti-Draft Movement as follows: (U)

"We don't question the right of the State to obligate its citizens. We do say that the state has no right to violate an individual's conscience. Some people think the war in Vietnam is a good war. They should fight there. Others think they can serve their country better by working in Nigeria, and they should serve there. It is just as risky".

The article states SDS refers to above as "Elective Service" and that people should be given a choice as to how they would like to serve their country.

A feature article appeared in the "Michigan Daily", U of M publication, Ann Arbor, Michigan, March 20, 1966, captioned, "Carl Oglesby". The article develops subject's background and his philosophy. Subject in the article is quoted as saying "Late in the 1950's, something happened, the civil rights movement began. I'm sure that there would be no 'New Left' had it not been for the Freedom Movement. People began discovering you did not have to work with the power structure to change things. Maybe you could do things yourself. The civil rights movement found out that it was possible for a few ordinary people to have a big effect on society."

In discussing his disillusionment with his employment at Bendix Systems Division, Ann Arbor, Michigan, where, according to the article, he worked as a technical writer on a Defense Department disarmament contract, he is quoted as saying: (U)

"I started out thinking people studied disarmament because I thought people wanted to disarm. But I found that when the Government talks about disarmament they really talk about ways of increasing strategic advantage over the Soviet Union." (U)

The article states that subject increasingly wrote in opposition to United States foreign policy and in December, 1964, a U of M literary magazine, "Generation" reprinted one of his letters along with one of subject's plays, "The Peacemakers". The article states that SDS members in Ann Arbor were impressed by his writing and invited him to join the organization. The article continues that he was impressed and "started to work on the planned faculty strike that eventually resulted in the first teach-in. He found the teach-in was a 'night of transfiguration.'" He is quoted as further saying "I became convinced that the really beautiful people are now students so I decided to cast my lot with SDS".

This article notes that central to the subject's political thesis is that the United States has to "Stop saying that everyone who comes along promising land, physical and social reform is a communist... The hunger in Latin America begins in the Chase-Manhattan Bank, it is ordinary, old fashioned economic exploitation..... as long as America remains as it is the revolutionaries will be forced into a Communist alignment for we give them no alternatives."

"MAO says the United States will never change. Everything he says is finally proved for the people in revolutionary situations who have an encounter with the United States. We turn hunger into Communism, illiteracy into Communism, nationalism into Communist and social revolution into Communism. The fact is that these revolutions are really not Communist aggression but genuine social revolution and we cannot hold that social revolution down."

The article continues that "Oglesby's speeches spark controversy wherever he goes. After his first SDS address from the back of a sound truck in New York's Washington Square, last spring, OGLESBY had his head bashed in by a group of muscular young dissidents who did not agree with what OGLESBY was saying or his right to say it, but then there was also the time at Williams College when a battle hardened 60-year old socialist came up after OGLESBY's speech and said, 'Mr. Oglesby, I just want to tell you that you are better than Debs.'" (U)

This lengthy article concluded by quoting OGLESBY as saying, "I happen to love America and I want there to be at least a footnote in the history of the 60's that said there were some people who tried to stop it. I just cannot face the thought of people in Swaziland someday reading the history of the United States in the 60's the way we read the history of Germany, 1930 - 1945." (U)

An article appeared in the "Michigan Journalist", a publication of the Department of Journalism, U of M, Ann Arbor, Michigan, dated November 11, 1965, wherein information concerning the SDS and various SDS leaders is set forth. In defense of the organization, the article reads in part as follows, attributing the comments to the subject:

"Communist infiltration is not a major threat to SDS, Oglesby said, in reply to Justice Department investigations. 'If anybody infiltrates, they will infiltrate open space,' he commented. 'SDS just isn't vulnerable to infiltration or a takeover.'" (U)

"Oglesby explained that his organization resists a strong central structure and tight internal discipline that would allow a handful of people to take over at the top and hand down orders."

"Membership is open to students, faculty and others who share the commitment of the organization to democracy as means and as a social goal," the SDS constitution says.

"Oglesby was critical of the Justice Department and the FBI. 'Apparently, those people don't understand how to deal with an open, democratic organization. If they want information, they get all we have to give by asking questions,' he said.

"He was optimistic about SDS's future, despite government efforts against it. 'I don't think rigidity will set in. When in rough weather, there is a tendency to batten down the hatches. There is no sense of panic, but more a sense of exhilaration,' Oglesby said."

An article appeared in the "Michigan Daily" publication under date February 15, 1966, captioned, "Reclassification of Protestors Helps Their Cause". The article concerns Selective Service reclassification of some U of M students which grew out of a "sit-in" of the Ann Arbor, Michigan, Selective Service Office, in a demonstration protesting United States intervention in Vietnam. The article quotes various SDS leaders and refers to the comments of subject, in part, as follows:

"Carl Oglesby, president of SDS, believes a major reason behind the success of the protest is that the demonstration occurred under 'optimum conditions for change.'

"He said that the peace movement couldn't be more respectable and have better arguments and that the administration couldn't be less respectable and have worse arguments.

"'I think more people trust Benjamin Spock (a leader of SANE) than Lyndon Johnson. At least Spock helped them raise their babies,' Oglesby said.

This lengthy article concerns his visit to Vietnam in 1965, and contains his commentary and quotations of his views of people he met in Vietnam. "Curtailement of civil liberties is the constant plight of dissenters, especially in time of war. World War I brought to America the Espionage Act, state criminal anarchy acts, jailings, deportations, and the banning of anti-war material from the mails. World War II saw the first Smith Act prosecutions and illegal confinement of American citizens of Japanese descent. The Korean War ushered in the McCarran Act and the McCarthy era.

"Already the war in Vietnam has produced its first Congressional reaction to protest activity -- the draft card burning bill -- and the pressures are mounting daily for everyone to get into step. 'The free and open debate has occurred,' so the theory goes, 'and the question has been decided. There is consensus behind the President-of-all-the-people. Further dissent amounts to obstruction of the popular will.' Yet the escalation of the anti-war protests shows more clearly than ever before just how deep sentiment against the war is running.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY

A source advised on April 20, 1965, that the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) formerly known as the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) held its first national convention April 15-18, 1965, at New York City, to organize the PLM into the PLP. The PLP will have as its ultimate objective the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism.

The "New York Times", April 20, 1965, page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP. The PLP was described as an outgrowth of the PLM. Its officers were identified as Milton Rosen of New York, President, and William Epton of New York and Mort Scheer of San Francisco, Vice Presidents. A 20-member National Committee was elected to direct the Party until the next convention.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962 by Mr. Rosen and Mr. Scheer after they were expelled from the Communist Party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor", a bimonthly magazine; "Challenge", a biweekly New York City newspaper; and "Spark", a west coast newspaper.

The June 1, 1965, issue of "Challenge", page 6, states that "this paper is dedicated to fight for a new way of life where the working men and women own and control their homes, factories, the police, courts, and the entire government on every level".

The source advised that the PLP utilizes the address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn, New York, but also utilizes an office in Room 622, 132 Nassau Street, New York City, where the PLP publications are prepared.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY(SDS)

A source advised on February 22, 1964, that at a meeting of the Portland (Oregon) Communist Party Youth Club held on February 20, 1964, a report was given by JAMES R. BERLAND of the Reed College Communist Party Youth Club concerning a meeting of the National Party Youth Commission (Communist Party) previously held in New York City. BERLAND reported that one of the four main points taken up in the New York City meeting concerned the SDS and its problems. BERLAND indicated that SDS was weak nationally but some local chapters were strong. It was noted that the SDS has an incorrect political orientation, being too far left on some issues and not far enough on others, and that the SDS does not follow the Marxist theory for the most part. One speaker said that the Party could work through SDS to achieve the aims of the Communist Party.

As a result of this meeting of the National Party Youth Commission, it was decided to work through SDS where there are strong local SDS chapters.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to its constitution, are: "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anticommunism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people".

Over the Labor Day weekend, 1965, the DCA held a conference in Chicago, Illinois, and a new slate of officers was elected to the National Executive Committee (NEC) of the DCA. Since Labor Day, 1965, identities of those serving on the NEC has varied; however, according to a third source as of May, 1966, thirteen of the fifteen members of the NEC were members of the CP in the San Francisco Bay area.

As of July, 1966, the headquarters of the DCA was located at 180 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist", (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the founding declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 23, 1966, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 23, 1966, that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC). The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section for the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 535, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH OF LOS ANGELES

A source advised on May 4, 1965, that the premises of the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles have been utilized for meetings by Communist Party members and sympathizers over a period of years. Speakers and lecturers at the church frequently espouse Communist causes or follow the Communist Party line. Communist front group literature is distributed at the church. The church is used by some Communist Party members for "mass concentration" work.

This same infiltration extends to adjuncts of the church such as the Unitarian Public Forum and the Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship for Social Justice.

STEPHEN H. FRITCHMAN has been minister of the church since 1948.

Reverend STEPHEN H. FRITCHMAN is described in the Fourt Report, Un-American Activities Committee in California, 1948, page 115, as a very active "Communist fronter" and connected with numerous "Communist front organizations and activities."

Membership in the First Unitarian Church does not, of itself, connote membership in or sympathy with the Communist Party.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR REPEAL OF THE MC CARRAN ACT, Formerly known as National Committee to Repeal the McCarran Act (1963)

The National Committee for Repeal of the McCarran Act (NCRMA) maintains headquarters in Room 318, 431 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois.

A source advised in May, 1964, that the NCRMA, formerly known as the National Committee to Repeal the McCarran Act, was the outgrowth of an Ad Hoc Committee of Initiators, headed by Professor CLYDE MILLER of New York, who solicited signatures to a Petition to the President of the United States in 1962, which called for the repeal of the McCarran Act. The NCRMA held its formation meeting at Chicago on May 18, 1963; the stated purpose of the committee is to seek repeal of the Internal Security Act of 1950, as amended. C

A second source advised in May, 1964, that the Communist Party, USA (CP) interest in NCRMA has been to give it full support and approval, and it takes the position that the committee composition must be extremely broad and the Party's direct influence must be kept to a minimum. The CP believes the new committee will serve its purpose in fighting the McCarran Act alone and the CP has everything to gain by taking this position. b6

[redacted] is not a CP member, but knowingly accepts support and advice from the CP leadership on behalf of this committee.

CLYDE MILLER, according to the "Daily Worker" issue of March 5, 1941, was a signer of a statement to the President defending the CP.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist daily newspaper which ceased publication January 13, 1958.

NATIONAL VIETNAM EXAMINATION

Distributed by: Students for a Democratic Society and Inter-University Committee for Debate on Foreign Policy

Instructions: This examination has been prepared to allow you to check your understanding of the war in Vietnam. For each question, indicate the correct answer or correct answers in the space provided. We believe in the importance in a democracy of putting the facts in the hands of every citizen to enable him to participate in decision-making. This is particularly true where the question is war and peace, and where the citizens are the young men who are called upon to fight.

1. The following statements were made by leading figures involved in the Vietnamese conflict. Match the quotations below with the author (more than one quotation can be attributed to the same individual).

- A) "I would like to see American students develop as much fanaticism about the U. S. political system as young Nazis did about their system during the war."
- B) "For years now in Southeast Asia, the only people who have been doing anything about the little man at the grassroots -- to lift him up -- have been the Communists."
- C) "The C.I.A. has employed some South Vietnamese and they have been instructed to claim they are Vietcong and to work accordingly... Several of these executed two village leaders and raped some women."
- D) "Do you think those (American) demonstrations were organized by some fine little social club? They were organized by an international apparatus; 95 per cent of the demonstrators are no more Communists than you and I, but the international Communist movement organized it and masterminded it."
- E) "The fever chart of every successful revolution... reveals a rising temperature of terrorism and counter-terrorism, but this does not of itself invalidate the legitimate goals that fired the original revolution. Most political revolutions--including our own--have been buoyed by outside aid in men, weapons and ideas."
- F) "...The Communists are closer to the people's yearning for social justice and an independent life than (my) own government."
- G) "The major part of the U. S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965, although ~~there~~ may be a continuing requirement for a limited number of U. S. training personnel."
- H) "I have only one (hero): Hitler"

- 1) John F. Kennedy
- 2) Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge
- 3) Premier Nguyen Cao Ky
- 4) Barry Goldwater
- 5) Senator Stephen Young of Ohio
- 6) Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara
- 7) Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey
- 8) President Lyndon B. Johnson
- 9) Ho Chi Minh

- (C) Saigon cracked down on political dissidents.

4. Which of the following statements about military operations in Vietnam, is (are) true?

- (A) American counter-insurgency forces arrived in South Vietnam as early as 1955.

7. The statement below is part of an editorial entitled "What Kind of War is This?":

"It is hard to disagree with President Johnson's announced aims in Vietnam. He has proclaimed those traditional goals for which Americans have always been prepared to fight... yet something new and ugly is happening in the way we fight for those goals. It began perhaps, with the decision to drop bombs and napalm on communist dominated peasant villages, killing and maiming the people we profess to defend from aggression... A Buddhist monastery wrecked by bombs... at least two monks killed, 10 injured... South Vietnamese troops beat and torture prisoners... U. S. Marines, under sniper attack, set a number of peasant villages afire with grenades and flame throwers... In one case, a woman and four children are found burned to death in the wreckage... It used to be axiomatic that there could be no victory in Vietnam without the support of the Vietnamese people... Our commitment to the people of South Vietnam is a commitment to protect them, not to destroy them in the name of the 'Free World.'"

This statement appeared on the editorial pages of:

- (A) The Communist "Worker"
- (B) "The Marine Reservist"
- (C) The Students for a Democratic Society "New Left Notes"
- (D) "The Saturday Evening Post"

8. American planes on bombing missions in South Vietnam are sometimes unable to drop their bombs on specified targets. However, before returning to base, they must jettison their bomb loads. They are authorized to drop these bombs in a "free bomb zone." A free bomb zone is:

- (A) Sufficiently far out in the ocean so that noncombatants will not be injured
- (B) An unpopulated jungle area where ample warnings have been posted
- (C) An area in which any structure or movement can be destroyed because the population is presumed to be "hostile" and therefore destroyable

9. The number of South Vietnamese civilian deaths due to American and South Vietnamese military operations is:

- (A) 109 (from August 1, 1965 through March 1, 1966)
- (B) about 14,000 in January-February 1966 alone
- (C) none since only "hard-core Vietcong" are killed by American military operations
- (D) probably twice the number of Vietcong killed

10. Chemical crop destruction will have the following predictable effects on enemy-held territories:

- (A) Enemy military operations will be severely hampered by logistic shortages
- (B) Death from starvation will occur--first of all in young children and the elderly
- (C) Adult men are the least likely and last to suffer disease and death

11. The war in South Vietnam is supposed to be part of our policy to contain Communist Chinese aggression. How many Communist Chinese troops are actively engaged in North Vietnam?

- (A) None
- (B) 1,000
- (C) 50,000
- (D) 100,000
- (E) 500,000

12. The American Government has no legal basis for fighting in Vietnam is our obligation under the mutual security clause of the South East Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO). The co-signees of the SEATO Pact are France, Pakistan, Philippines, New Zealand, Britain, Thailand, and Australia.

Of the approximately 850,000 troops fighting on the side of the Saigon government, how many come from SEATO countries other than the U. S.?

- (A) More than 100,000
- (B) About 75,000

13. The American government often denounces Communist terrorism. This terrorism is given as a reason why the U. S. must never accept a Communist government in South Vietnam.

In recent months, three hundred thousand persons have been slaughtered in one of the following countries, yet the U. S. has failed to make a public statement opposing this violence. Which country?

- (A) North Vietnam
- (B) Indonesia
- (C) Soviet Union
- (D) Communist China
- (E) Cuba

14. Which of the following American military heroes has, in the past, warned against committing a large number of American troops to a land war on the Asian mainland:

- (A) Gen. Douglas MacArthur
- (B) Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower
- (C) Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway
- (D) Gen. Maxwell Taylor
- (E) Gen. James Gavin
- (F) Gen. Omar Bradley

One of the main obstacles to negotiations has been the American insistence that the Vietnamese settle their internal affairs in accordance with the program of the National Liberation Front of South Vietnam (Viet Cong). Which of the following points are contained in the NLF program?

- (A) The establishment of "a government of national and democratic union... composed of representatives of all social classes, of all nationalities, of all religions..."
- (B) "Implement essential democratic liberties: freedom of opinion, of press, of assembly, of movement, of trade unionism; freedom of religion without discrimination; and the right of all patriotic organizations of whatever political tendency to carry on normal activities."
- (C) "Elect a new National Assembly through universal suffrage."
- (D) "Support the national bourgeoisie in the reconstruction and development of crafts and industry."
- (E) "By negotiation and on the basis of fair prices, repurchase for distribution to landless peasants or peasants with insufficient land, those surplus lands that the owners of large estates will be made to relinquish if their domain exceeds a certain limit, to be determined according to regional particularities."
- (F) "Overthrow the camouflaged colonial regime of the American imperialists..."

15. Which of the following statements about the willingness of the North Vietnamese to negotiate is accurate?

- (A) The North Vietnamese only began to show some interest in negotiation after we began bombing them
- (B) There have been seven documented offers to negotiate by the North Vietnamese since September, 1964
- (C) I must say that candor compels me to tell you that there has not been the slightest indication that the other side is interested in negotiations or in unconditional discussion although the United States has made some dozen separate attempts to bring them about." (President Johnson's speech, July 13, 1965)
- (D) The North Vietnamese have maintained that any negotiations must include the prior recognition of the Communist Chinese regime by the American government
- (E) The North Vietnamese and the National Liberation Front have maintained that the immediate withdrawal of foreign troops be accepted as the basis for negotiation, but that such withdrawal does not have to precede negotiations

17. If the approximately $1 billion the U. S. is expending this year to prosecute the war in Vietnam is distributed equally among the South Vietnamese people, how much would each receive?

- (A) $85
- (B) $200
- (C) $500
- (D) $850

Re: Carl Preston Oglesby, Jr.

DE T-1 advised that Oglesby, as of September 1, 1965, continued residence at Ann Arbor, Michigan, at 803 McKinley Street. (U)

DE T-1 advised that the subject, in the period June, 1965, through August, 1966, held the position of President of the SDS organization, headquarters for which organization are located in Chicago, Illinois. DE T-1 advised that during that period, Oglesby was reportedly in an almost constant travel status, throughout the United States and abroad, making appearances for the SDS organization. He noted that despite Oglesby's employment for a Chicago headquarters organization, Oglesby maintained [redacted] [redacted] (U)

"The Michigan Daily", a student publication of the University of Michigan (UM), Ann Arbor, Michigan, is an article dated June 16, 1965, entitled, "SDS Convention Explores Educational Policies", concludes with a statement that at the close of the plenary session of the National Convention of the SDS held at Kewadin, Michigan, June, 1965, Carl Oglesby was elected to the SDS Presidency. The article describes Oglesby as 30 years of age, as a graduate of the UM and noted that in 1961, he was awarded a major Hopwood drama award at the UM. The article also notes that Oglesby was the fifth SDS National President in a row to have been a former student of the UM.

The "Ann Arbor News", a daily newspaper published at Ann Arbor, Michigan, under date June 15, 1965, carried an article entitled, "Three Actions Set in Protest Movement". This article states, in part, as follows:

"Carl Oglesby of Ann Arbor, newly elected president of the national Students for a Democratic Society said in Kewadin, near Traverse City, that the society is considering plans -- including possible deliberate violation of U. S. espionage laws -- to try to force the government to defend its Viet Nam position in court. (U)

Re: Carl Preston Oglesby, Jr.

"Up to 200 U-M students belong to the society and Oglesby, 29 year-old U-M graduate, said that if the society's council approves the plan, it still would have to be voted on by the group's 2,000 members.

"It occurred to us that it may be a good idea to put the Administration into a trial situation,' Oglesby said. 'One way would be through a deliberate infraction of the 1917 Espionage Act.'

"Oglesby said the act forbids the advocacy that a member of the U.S. Armed Forces desert the army or refuse to do battle for the country.

"Oglesby added one method of attacking the act would be to distribute pamphlets in or near Army basis urging soldiers to refuse to fight in Viet Nam."

DE T-2 advised on June 15, 1965, that at the 1965 National Convention of the SDS, Oglesby addressed the convention explaining what his workshop had covered. DE T-2 stated that his comments in the address were, in part, as follows:

"Philosophy of SDS involvement in foreign policy issue -- we decided SDS should be involved in foreign policy and given what we want to educate ourselves in this political involvement. We should understand with whom we deal and how they relate to life and politics in this country. We build movements around things that affect people, as with Vietnam and the Dominican Republic. To live in the United States now is not to have the opportunity for total involvement in cold war issues.

"Vietnam was thrust upon us and we didn't have time to decide, but South Africa is different, it is our creation. SDS does not want to be in a position where they simply respond to some new outrage of the Re: Carl Preston Oglesby, Jr.

"Johnson Administration. SDS should relate to this ferment not by becoming an advocate of the cold war but by turning this into a massive protest movement. SDS must attain some initiative not just react to whims of the government." (U)

Oglesby said there were some who felt "foreign policy for SDS was suicidal, impossible, ridiculous, or all three. While we want to be careful about associating with this or that country we still feel SDS should more closely associate themselves with issues which not only affect us at home but overseas." (U)

"People want to know if it is possible for the American government to make a decision overseas which we could officially endorse." (U)

"People want to know and discuss international communism."

DE T-2 additionally advised that among numerous pamphlets distributed at this SDS convention was a pamphlet entitled, "The Vietnam War: World Revolution and American Containment" which identified its author as Carl Oglesby.

The records of the Passport Office, United States Department of State, as of August 16, 1965, reflected that Passport Number F489267 had been issued to Carl Oglesby on June 29, 1965, at Chicago, Illinois. In his application for above passport, he stated his intention to travel to France, the Philippines and Japan, stating the purpose of such travel as "research and pleasure". (U)

DE T-3 advised in June, 1965, that Oglesby, in June, 1965, planned travel on an all-expense paid "teach-in" type tour to Paris, Algiers and Saigon, South Vietnam. DE T-3 confirmed that Oglesby would be at above travel in summer, 1965, and additionally planned travel to Tokyo, Japan, if he made contact with undisclosed sources while in Saigon, South Vietnam. Re: Carl Preston Oglesby, Jr.

An article appeared in the "Ann Arbor News", referred to above, under date July 22, 1965, which article reports that Oglesby had returned the previous day from a trip to Vietnam and the article contains his observations obtained on that travel. (U)

DE T3 advised on August 12, 1965, that Oglesby was on that date departing for Tokyo, Japan, to address a Tokyo "teach-in". (U)

DE T-4, a confidential source abroad, advised on August 20, 1965, that Oglesby entered Japan on August 14, 1965, from Chicago, Illinois, and departed Tokyo, Japan, for return to the United States August 16, 1965. This source advised that while in Tokyo, Oglesby resided at the Toshi Center Hotel and identified himself as a writer and as Chairman of the SDS. DE T-4 advised that Oglesby's "sponsor" in Japan was [redacted] b6 b7C (U)

Kyoto, Japan, and a member of the "Japan Peace in Vietnam Committee".

An article appeared in the publication entitled, "Asahi" published at Tokyo, Japan, under date of August 15, 1965, concerning public ceremonies at Tokyo, Japan, for the "20th Armistice Day", August 14, 1965. The article refers to various events throughout the day followed by an "all night forum" on the topic of "war and peace", to be held at Tokyo, August 14 - 15, 1965. The article states that this "forum" was to include presentation of appeals for peace by several individuals, including Chairman Oglesby of the "Students Federation for a Democratic Society". (U)

DE T-3 advised on June 22, 1965, that Oglesby, in June, 1965, recognized an invitation to attend the World Press Congress at Helsinki, Finland, in August, 1965, but stated his uncertainty as to whether he would be able to appear. (U)

DE T-5 advised in March, 1966, that Oglesby, whom he described as well known to him, was regarded by him as a brilliant writer and as an "original thinker". He advised (U) that Oglesby developed from a "political liberal" to a member of the "radical left" during 1964, noting that the turning point in this change appeared to turn on the question of United States intervention in Vietnam. DE T-5 advised that Oglesby took up this question as of intense, personal serious concern at that time and deliberately aligned himself as far politically "left" as possible. DE T-5, in this connection, advised that Oglesby, in the fall of 1964, boasted that he had decided to vote at that time for the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) ticket in the November, 1964, election. (U)

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

DE T-5 advised that Oglesby resigned his employment at Bendix Systems Division, Ann Arbor, Michigan, summer, 1965, in order to make himself available full time to pursue the question of disengagement by the United States in the Vietnamese conflict. (U)

DE T-5 described the subject as an "atheist" and as a "socialist" and as completely sincere in his dedication toward the principles of the SDS organization. He noted that the subject undertook severe financial sacrifice in resigning his regular employment to assume the SDS Presidency. In that Presidency, DE T-5 advised Oglesby has been in a virtually constant travel status throughout the United States and abroad making appearances for, or in the interest of, the SDS organization. (U)

DE T-5 advised that Oglesby is a brilliant writer and a dramatic actor. He advised that Oglesby is a playwright of some success, having had three plays produced to date. He states Oglesby is largely interested in the Nuerenberg tribunal of history and has developed a philosophy of justifying some activities of SDS along the lines of the "Nuerenberg principles". He stated that along this line, Oglesby holds that a citizen has an obligation to all of mankind, and that such obligation is superior to a citizen's obligation to his own nation when he finds its laws to be immoral. APPENDIX

A source advised on February 22, 1964, that at a meeting of the Portland (Oregon) Communist Party Youth Club held on February 20, 1964, a report was given by JAMES R. BERLAND of the Reed College Communist Party Youth Club concerning a meeting of the National Party Youth Commission (Communist Party) previously held in New York City. BERLAND reported that one of the four main points taken up in the New York City meeting concerned the SDS and its problems. BERLAND indicated that SDS was weak nationally but some local chapters were strong. It was noted that the SDS has an incorrect political orientation, being too far left on some issues and not far enough on others, and that the SDS does not follow the Marxist theory for the most part. One speaker said that the Party could work through SDS to achieve the aims of the Communist Party.

As a result of this meeting of the National Party Youth Commission, it was decided to work through SDS where there are strong local SDS chapters.

OSIAF, Japan, reported that a "teach-in" type television program was held at the Prince Hotel in Tokyo on 8/14-15/65. The program was established to enable pros and cons of the Vietnam situation to be discussed; however, as the program progressed, it took a decided anti-US trend. At the request of a member of the audience, Carl Oglesby gave an address in which he described alleged brutalities he claimed having seen committed by US Armed Forces during his visit to Vietnam. Members of the Liberal Democratic Party attempted to shout down Oglesby and the teach-in broke into a catcalling session. Those opposed to the US-Vietnamese policy gained complete control of the program until it went off the air. (C) (U) (S)

[redacted] (protect identity)
furnished a copy of the "National Vietnam Newsletter" dated 9/9/65 published by SDS. In this edition appeared an article captioned "Special Report: NLF Offers to Negotiate." According to the article, the b6 Inter-University Committee for Debate on Foreign Policy sponsored a b7C three-man fact-finding mission to Vietnam in early August, namely, Robert b7D
S. Browne, Carl Oglesby, and Jonathan Mirsky.

The article stated that the mission's purpose was to sound out Vietnamese opinion on all questions associated with the intensifying war. The group talked with former and present officials of the South Vietnamese government, religious leaders, businessmen, students, intel- (U) lectuals and others; they also believed they made informal and indirect contact with spokesmen for the National Liberation Front (NLF).

According to Oglesby, the two major obstacles to peace so far had been the NLF's requirement that the US must withdraw before talks (U) could begin and Washington's refusal to recognize the NLF as a separate voice in negotiations. The first obstacle appeared to be removed and if the US would remove the second, there might be an opportunity for cessation of conflict.

[redacted] reported that the above three individuals traveled (b7D) to Vietnam in July, 1965.

Carl Oglesby spoke to this group of UM students on the subject of his visit to South Vietnam, mentioning that he had had no contact with the NLF or representatives of North Vietnam. [redacted] continued that on 9/17/65 Oglesby and [redacted] were scheduled to address a rally (not further identified) on the UM campus; however, instead they spoke at the "Fishbowl" where a crowd was assembling due to the placement of a sign by the CAVP at this establishment pertaining to the war crimes committed by the US soldiers in Vietnam. The records of the Clerk of the US District Court for the District of Columbia revealed that Civil Action number 1087-66 was filed on 4/26/66. The action was a Complaint for Declaratory Judgment and Injunctive Relief filed by the plaintiffs' attorneys. The plaintiffs included several branches of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (100-441164-53) and numerous individuals, one of whom was Carl Oglesby. Defendants named in the action were Nicholas deB Katzenbach, Attorney General (AG) of the US, and several members of the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB) in Washington, DC. (U)

The plaintiffs sought interlocutory and permanent injunctions restraining the AG and SACB from proceeding with hearings and other procedures affecting the organizational plaintiffs pursuant to a section of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950 as amended (McCarran Act) and requested that a three-judge court be convened to hear the issues raised in the complaint. The plaintiffs declared that the so-called "Communist-front" provisions of the above section were void and illegal and violated the Constitution of the US. (U)

In reference to the above Civil Action, on or about 5/9/66 the defendants filed a Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Opposition to Plaintiffs' Motion to Convene a Three-Judge Court and in Support of Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, as to fourteen of the twenty-six plaintiffs.

One of the fourteen plaintiffs was Carl Oglesby. (Defendant's argument set out)

On or about 5/27/66 the plaintiffs filed a reply claiming that a three-judge statutory court was necessary.

The SACB denied the motion to dismiss but exercised its discretion to refrain from going forward with the hearing until the court had ruled on whether a preliminary or interlocutory injunction should issue to enjoin the Board proceeding or, if a three-judge court was not convened, to allow a reasonable time for possible application to the appropriate tribunal for an order staying the Board proceeding.
